Notice to all Persons having Demands on the Government

PENSIONS, BOUNTY, PRIZE MONEY, PATENTS, Pay for Vouchers, Scrip, Back Pay, Lost Horse and Spoliation Claims, Claims [illegible] the undersigned who will attend to all other business before the Departments at Washington City.

Soldiers becoming disabled or discharged while in the service, are entitled to a Pension. Those who served in any war previous to the 11th of March, 1855, are entitled to Bounty Land. Those who served in the Navy during the late war, and were legally attached to a vessel or squadron on duty, although not participating in the taking of prizes, are entitled to Prize Money. In many Indian Treaties provision is made for payment of Spoliation Claims out of Annuities. To collect the large number of such claims now owned in this country—for the settlement of which no similar provision has been made by treaty—demand should be made of ... therefor at the proper Department, and if found just, recommendation will be made to Congress to pass an act retaining the amount thereof out of the Annuities.

Senator Nesmith's Position

Senator Nesmith has written a letter to a friend in Oregon, a part of which was published in the Statesman of the 28th ult., in which he declares that he heartily indorses President Johnson's message and says he will support the President in carrying out the policy he has adopted to govern his administration. We are truly pleased that Mr. Nesmith has so expressed his views. By so doing he has placed himself we presume, among those properly styled Democrats. He indorses the President but is not yet advanced into the clear light where he can give his whole heart and hand to the support of the UNION PARTY, as a party, against what is styled the Democratic party. The Senator now occupies the ground with thousands of others who supported McClellan in the last Presidential contest. Voorhees, of Indiana, and S. S. Cox, of Ohio, both indorse President Johnson. So do many other of the leading spirits of the McClellan party. These men we trust, are all in earnest in their professions of reformation. If they choose, now that they have cut loose from the traitors with whom they associated at Chicago, to build up a Johnson party and assume its leadership, we bid them God speed, they will be taking the first step from the darkness in which they have been wandering towards the light of truth. If they prefer emerging into the broad sun light at once by joining the Union organization and doing battle against the common enemy, we are in favor of extending to them the right hand of fellowship, and as signing them positions in the ranks with all other new recruits who join from principle, and not because they wish to be in the strongest side. This is all that reasonable, honest men can ask and all that the veteran troops in the Union ranks will grant. It is honor enough to be a high private in the party whose record will forever be the brightest page in our country's history as the savior of a nation's liberty. There are tried and true soldiers who have borne the burden and heat of the day through the long and bloody strife from which we have emerged without asking for promotion, and accepting it only when chosen by their brothers in arms. These are the men whom the people now delight to honor. They have valiantly won the spurs of Knighthood, and a grateful people will see that they get them. Others who aspire to positions of trust will be required to prove their fidelity to the cause by passing slowly through the gradations from private to command er. If their professions are sincere they will not complain at this; if not they will soon desert the cause. The mere endorsement of President Johnson's message makes no man a member of the Union party unless he acknowledges the obligations each member owes to each and each to all. There are questions inside of the party upon which members may differ, and each adhere to his own opinions without injuring his standing as a member of the party. There are questions of conscience, questions of policy and questions of expediency, all of which are abstract in their character, and a difference upon them in no sense endangers the stability of the organization. While this is true it is equally as well an established fact that every member of a political or any other organization is required to acknowledge his allegiance by acting with his party brethren in advancing the interests of the whole party. Neither Senator Nesmith nor any of the leaders of the McClellan Democracy, as far as we have learned, have declared themselves members of the Union party. They indorse President Johnson and condemn a majority of Union Representatives and Senators elected by the Union men of the nation. Hence such men have no claims on Union men for their support. They are simply disgusted with their former political associates and have withdrawn from among them. It remains to be seen whether they will join the Union party or establish a third party. The indications at present are that they will attempt to organize a Johnson party. By doing this they will draw at least three fourths of the Democracy in the East with them. In Oregon alone the regular guerrilla Copperheads control the party. If, therefore, we were permitted to give our erring U. S. Senator advice, we would say to him, renounce all allegiance to the rotten Democracy; come out in favor of the perpetuation of the Union organization in as emphatic terms as you did in your letter to Ben Harding advocating the election of the impostor McClellan, do not for heaven's sake be so intent upon letting the people know that you are opposed to negro enfranchisement; vote as you please on that question. The people of Oregon care not a straw whether you vote for or against negro suffrage in the District of Columbia. When, if ever, that question comes before the people of this State they may make it a party test question. If Senator Nesmith will thus show his hand, and be content with a position in the Union ranks as a private until he wins the confidence of the people which he lost at Chicago, he will be acting wisely.—Albany Journal.

DISCOVERY OF A MAMMOTH CAVE.—The Shasta Courier publishes an account of the adventures of a couple of Portuguese who recently arrived there from a prospecting tour, bringing rich specimens and relating a story of a wonderful cave which they claim to have discovered. They penetrated it a long distance, but their light gave out before they discovered its extent. Returning to the outside world they made preparations for a second exploration on a larger scale. The Courier thus describes the result:

Arrived back at the point from which they started they determined to pack a small mule they had with them with blankets, a little provisions, and a great deal of pitch pine, and fully arming themselves, again started. Thus equipped they resumed their search more leisurely and with renewed confidence and were soon beyond the point of their former exploration, and at least a mile on their subterranean travels.

Close examination of the trail they were on satisfied them that the place had been traveled by Indians, and hence they came to the conclusion that there might be an outlet somewhere in advance of them. Soon their progress became more difficult, the passage narrowing in some places so as to make it difficult to squeeze the little mule through, and then it would open out on a scale so grand that their lights failed to reveal anything but walls of darkness. As yet no living thing had presented itself to disturb the monotony of the darkness, and the poor fellows began to think that they might be on the route to the lower regions. Soon, however, on turning an angle in the trail, a glimpse of daylight was had, and after a few minutes a scene burst upon them such as to strike with wonder and awe the beholders. Even the mule manifested surprise at the scene presented.

They stood on the bank of a subterranean stream of great volume and rapidity of current, as wide as the Sacramento at Waugh's Ferry—or about 200 feet—and of great depth apparently. The bank on either side was sloping, and covered with a rank growth of rushes and coarse bunch grass. The scene was lighted up by an aperture in the mountain overhead, seemingly some hundred feet above them, and to the eye apparently no larger than an ordinary mining shaft. The opening at the base seemed from 40 to 60 rods—the whole presenting the appearance of a vast tunnel inverted. Lying about them was the bones of animals that had evidently been killed for food by Indians, the indications of old camp fires being plenty all around. The water was pure and pleasant to the taste, having no unusual flavor.

Finding no road to travel onward, nor a boat for internal navigation, they returned to the place from whence they started. On their return they examined more closely the sides and, when they could, the top of this wonderful opening. They found the walls of hard granite occasionally of a shelly or broken character, but generally so firm as to awaken no fear of its falling. They noticed several quartz veins that were cut by the vast tunnel but saw no great indications of wealth about them. In fact they say they felt somewhat in a hurry to get away and did not care to spend the time necessary to minute examination. They will return about the 1st of May and say they will take pleasure in showing to the curious the wonder they have discovered.

The location of the cave is supposed to be in the vicinity of Tyally Bally. The Indians have known of it for a long time, and say that it leads to the "hunting ground of the brave."

One of our Southern exchanges remarks that nobody now takes any interest in politics, and thereupon presents a leading article upon the singular topic "Jackasses." It is a very able article although it might be considered egotistical by many.

Miscellaneous Items

Information has been received in Richmond that A. H. Conrow, formerly a Representative in the rebel Congress from Missouri; Gen. A. M. Parsons, who formerly commanded the Missouri brigade in the rebel army, and Assistant Adj't Gen. Standish, of the same brigade, were murdered by robbers while on their way from the Texas frontier to the City of Mexico, several months ago. These men left the South soon after the surrender.

A gentleman just returned to New Orleans from Arkansas, reports that State to be in an unsettled, disorganized condition. In many parts of the country the inhabitants are actually threatened with famine. Life and property are everywhere insecure, and murders and robberies are of almost every day occurrence. No man thinks of traveling unarmed, the people making use of muskets, shot guns, etc., where no better weapons are to be found. He had gone to that State to live, but the condition of the country and society was such as to induce him to abandon the idea.

George L. Little, a special Agent of the Treasury Department, who has recently returned to Washington from an extensive tour through the South, reports that he finds as much money in the hands of Southern men now as was ever before possessed by them. Northern speculators are numerous in most regions of the South, and have been and are now purchasing largely of the Southern staples, as well as of landed property, thus placing in the hands of the people immense amounts of ready money.

There are eight hundred claimants for the rewards offered by the Government and city authorities for the capture of Booth and his conspirators. There are three hundred thousand dollars to be divided among them at no distant day, although a persistent boring of Secretary Stanton has failed to discover when. As soon as those persons entitled to the reward are recognized at the War Department the systematic prosecution of claims for the rewards offered elsewhere will be commenced.

The trial of the fifteen inch guns in the lower bay of New York has proved quite satisfactory. The guns employed are to be placed on board the Puritan and other vessels of her class. It has been decided to mount the turret of the Puritan on a light draft monitor, and then subject it to the fire of all the forts in the "Narrows"—the entrance to New York harbor.

A. T. Stewart, of New York, owns three theaters—Niblo's, the Olympic, and the New York Theater.

Repudiates the National Debt

The inquiry is often made What would the "Democratic" party do, should it get control of the Government? We do not think this question is hard to answer. There is one thing which above all others that party disrelishes. This is to be obliged to submit to taxation to pay the debt which was incurred by the Government in putting down the rebellion. It was hard enough for them to witness the discomfiture of their party brethren in the South but to be obliged to contribute money to make good the vast sum which was expended in bringing the war to a successful termination is peculiarly odious to them. Therefore if they get power again, they will seize the opportunity to repudiate the national debt. Some of their prominent men have no hesitation in avowing this as their purpose. Many of their influential journals at the East have declared that such is the determination of the party. We also find the same thing in their leading organ in this State. The Albany Democrat puts it in this style

"The President don't believe the national debt is a national blessing, but does believe that by a system of taxation the whole sum can be extinguished in thirty years. He may rest assured that if the people ever again recover the control of the Government it will not take more than that number of days to extinguish the whole corrupt debt without a system of taxation which will grind the poor man under the heel of the rich."

Here a leading "Democrat" distinctly avows that it is the settled purpose of his party, should it succeed in getting possession of the Government, to repudiate the national debt. This declaration will be a very good thing to turn to account against the "Democracy" in the coming political campaign. That party has the effrontery to come before the people as contestants for places of trust, with so infamous a proposition as that of breaking the national faith with those who provided the Government in the day of its extremity with the means which saved it from destruction. We have reason then, to assume that the policy of the "Democratic" party is to repudiate the national debt. This is a principal object with them in striving for power. Let it be remembered against them that they have openly declared their intention to do this perfidious act.

Repudiation is a "Democratic" habit. That first of "Democrats," Jeff. Davis, advised the "Democratic" State of Mississippi to repudiate her debt, and she did it. He, with other "Democrats," advised the "Democratic" State of Arkansas to repudiate a large sum she had borrowed of the Smithsonian Institute, and Arkansas readily complied. It therefore excites no wonder that the "Democracy," following the counsels of their great leader, should now want to get rid of the national debt in the same manner in which they usually discharge their public, and even private, obligations.

REMARKABLE STATEMENTS.—At the late New England dinner in this city, Dr Bellows made some statements which are particularly worthy of note. He said:

"No less than thirteen millions of money passed through his hands for the relief of the widows and orphans of the brave men who fought these battles in the late struggle. He would state a circumstance that would scarcely be believed only it came from authority, that no less than ninety per cent. of the army who fought throughout the war were purely American. He did not think his friend, the President of the St. Patrick Society, would be obliged to him for this statement, but it was, nevertheless, the truth, and if his worthy friend was chagrined with this statement, he would say to him, it is so; but let the London Times put that fact in its pipe and smoke it. More than that, more than ninety per cent. of the claims of wounded soldiers and soldiers' widows and orphans were from those of foreign birth. He did not say this to reflect upon the gallantry and loyalty and bravery of the Irish and German and other peoples who had so nobly fought for the Union and the country they had adopted. He merely did it at this time—at the close of the great events through which they had passed to vindicate the character and patriotism of the native element, and to disabuse those powers abroad who imagined or wished to please themselves or their subjects with the idea that the great American struggle and the great victory which closed it was achieved by the foreign element in the country. This was not so. With thanks and gratitude to the Irish, German and other elements that entered into the struggle, he was bound to make this declaration at the present time."

UPPER COLUMBIA NEWS.—We condense from the Mountaineer of the 13th the following:

We have to note the arrival of many persons by the land route from Umatilla. There is now no serious impediment to travel by land from this point to the interior.

Sheriff Berry arrived in this place on Sunday, the 11th inst., from Walla Walla, having in charge Michael E. Lewis, who is charged with the murder of David Peorie, at Olive Creek, North John Day mines, on the 23d of October, 1865. The pursuit and arrest of this man reflects great credit on Major Berry, and goes to show that when we have good officers the law is all sufficient for the apprehension and punishment of law-breakers. With such men in office there is no need, and there need be no fear, of vigilance committees. The arrest of this man is another warning to evildoers and another evidence that the times are past in which men's lives can be taken with impunity in this country.

Certain predatory members of the Bloody Fourteenth have confined themselves to petty thefts, too small to entitle them to more than three months in the county jail. The other day, however, one of them ventured over the mark, and stole an eight-day clock, valued at $40. He is now in confinement at Fort Dalles, and will shortly be turned over to the civil authorities for trial. He ought to be sent down for a year, and each day ought to be as long as an eight day clock can measure it. Time, in such matters, is a valuable consideration.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.—The New York Tribune says: The present Chief-Justice of the United States is honored by the active, implacable hatred of every one who hates Universal Freedom. There is not an ex negro trader in the land who does not regard him with personal vindictiveness, as one who has unwarrantably intermeddled with and spoiled the gainful traffic in human beings. There is not a blackleg in the South who does not instinctively gnash his teeth at the mention of the name of Salmon P. Chase.

The sons of William Johnson, brother of the President, have just published a letter confirming the reports that their father, who was accidentally injured by the discharge of his own gun, died for want of surgical treatment, the rebel surgeons of the vicinity refusing to render any assistance on the ground that Mr Johnson was a brother of the President. The accident occurred at Velasco, Texas and the family were obliged to send to Columbia, 100 miles distant, for a Federal surgeon. When applied to for their professional ministrations the radical faculty of Velasco replied that there were too many Johnsons.

The United States Sanitary Commission having declined to continue beyond the 1st of January the collection of soldiers' claims for back pay, bounty and pensions, the general Secretary of the American Freedmen's Aid Commission will receive, until further notice, the claims of colored soldiers and their heirs. Applications should be addressed to Jacob R Shepherd, General Secretary, Washington D C

We take the following from the Albany Journal:

One of the many Copperhead office seekers of this county recently offered to secure a veteran Abolitionist a nomination for the Legislature if he would vote their ticket next June and bring ten more votes to their support. "Help me Cassius, or I sink."

Luther Elkins is spoken of by the Johnson Democracy of this county as their candidate for the county Judgeship. Dennis' faction swear they won't support him. Friend Elkins, they will slaughter you in convention.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO FEBRUARY 12

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Feb 9.—The House to-day finished the naval appropriation bill. All the items for the Norfolk and Pensacola navy yards were stricken out, it being held that the condition of the South does not yet warrant the expenditure of any large sums for improvements that could be used against the nation. The Bill gives the Washington Navy Yard $1?0,000 and the Portsmouth Yard $290,000, being in each case all that was asked for. The New York Yard half a million, which was one third of what they wanted. The Boston Yard asked for $600,000 and got $[illegible],000. The Portsmouth Yard appropriation includes $100,000 for the purchase of railways on land adjoining the yard, and this so far as money is concerned settles that question which has been disturbing Congress for so many years.

WASHINGTON, Feb 10.—In the House to-day Mr Ward, of New York, argued the duty of Congress to bring back the Southern States. He said the people of those States were in the good behaviour, but the rebel spirit yet prevailed; that the leaders of the rebellion ought to be hanged, that such offenders in future might be admonished that treason is a crime which ought to be punished.

WASHINGTON, Feb 8.—The committee of ways and means having under consideration the report of the revenue commissioners, and it appearing that many important recommendations seriously affecting the business of the country could not be reached for some time, Eggleston of Ohio, for the purpose of obtaining a prompt expression of the House upon one point, to-day offered a resolution that it is unwise to reduce the internal revenue tax on spirits. Objections being made, no action was taken.

A number of Democratic members called on the President to-day to congratulate him upon his speech to the colored delegation yesterday.

The Secretary of the Interior reports that the surveys of the public lands during the last ten years in California have cost $1,414,524, while the receipts from sales during the same time, amounted to only $529,764.

The government directors of the Pacific Railroad are urging the importance of adopting some measures to hasten the completion of the work. An effort is being made to have a mint established at Idaho City instead of in Oregon. No action has yet been taken on the San Francisco mint. The delegation will urge the adoption of the plans submitted. The custom house lot may be rejected as the site.

WASHINGTON, Feb 9.—A message was received in the House from the President transmitting letters from the Secretary of War and the Attorney General in answer to the resolution inquiring whether it would be incompatible with the public interests to publish the evidence against Jefferson Davis.

The Freedmen's Bureau bill has finally passed both houses, the House to-day concurring in the Senate's amendment of yesterday. This is the most important measure yet passed.

Major General Osterhaus was formally introduced to the House to-day. The Speaker made a brief speech to which the General replied, and he was greeted with applause. The members were then personally introduced to him.

Celebration of Lincoln's Birthday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Great interest is felt in the Congressional ceremonies to-morrow, celebrating Lincoln's birthday. As high as fifty dollars was offered for tickets of admission to the Capitol on the occasion of Bancroft's oration. Dr. Geo H. Bethune, of New York, to-day delivered to President Johnson and Hon Geo Bancroft, copies of the Lincoln medal, struck in bronze, prepared under the auspices of the American Numismatical Archeological Society, and which he was empowered to present in the name of that association. It was intended to deliver these medals in due form to-morrow as a part of the proceedings at the Capitol, but this could not be done without disturbing the previously prepared programme. Both the President and Mr Bancroft expressed themselves delighted with the medals and the remarkable accuracy of the likeness.

WASHINGTON, Feb 12.—The ceremonies to-day, in commemoration of the life and services of Abraham Lincoln were in the highest degree impressive. The Capitol was closed this morning to all except Senators, Representatives, officials, guests of the President and citizens holding invitation tickets. President Johnson was seated in front of the speaker's desk, the Chief Justice and his Associates sat next on his right; diplomatic corps next on the right, and the Cabinet on the President's left, distinguished officers of the army and navy sat next on the left, Representatives in Congress occupying seats on either side of main aisles; in the rear were seats for Senators, the diplomatic gallery was occupied exclusively by families of members of the diplomatic corps, and the other galleries were crowded with ladies and gentlemen holding tickets, the Marine Band was stationed in the upper vestibule, and discoursed appropriate music, ceasing when exercises commenced. All being in readiness at half-past 12, Lafayette Foster, President of the Senate, called the two houses to order. A prayer was offered by Rev Dr. Boynton, chaplain of the House. The presiding officer then introduced Mr Bancroft, of New York, who delivered the oration at the clerk's table, occupying two hours. It was heard with marked attention. At the conclusion a benediction was pronounced by Rev R. Gray, chaplain of the Senate.

The President on Negro Suffrage.

BOSTON, Feb. 11.—The correspondent of the Boston Advertiser gives a reported conversation between the President and a distinguished representative, wherein Mr Johnson expressed himself desirous to see secured to the colored people a fair chance, but nothing he could say or do now, if his former language and antecedents are not sufficient, would give any such guarantee. It was best to speak plainly, and he thought the effort now making for universal suffrage was not wise or just. In regard to difficulty with the party that elected him, he says he might differ with individuals of what was called the Union party, but in the main, he considered himself in general accord with that party. He was not a party man but meant to sink party in the patriot, and should be wholly at liberty to differ, and to state the ground of difference.

Washington City News.

WASHINGTON, Feb 10.—The Birmingham, England, Association for the relief of destitute families in the United States has just contributed another cargo of goods to Gen Howard for distribution, and the Secretary of the Treasury has ordered their admission free of duty.

The Canadian officials before they left threw out some hints that if the reciprocity treaty was allowed to expire without some action upon it, the fisheries might lead to a source of difficulty under the treaty stipulations of the reciprocity treaty. When it expires we are limited to a very small margin on British waters and if our fishermen get beyond that limit they will be forced back.

NEW YORK, Feb 10.—The Post's Washington dispatch says rumors are current but not generally credited that the President will soon issue a proclamation declaring peace and restoring the habeas corpus in all the States.

Trial of Semmes.

WASHINGTON, Feb 8.—The trial of Semmes has been delayed this long for the reason that all proceedings requisite to its commencement are not yet agreed upon. The names of many parties of high position in the merchant service, including upwards of fifty Captains who have suffered from his depredations are known and some of them will probably be summoned at the proper time. It would facilitate matters if any of those who have served on the Alabama, either as officers or among the crew whose testimony would be reliable either for the defense or prosecution, should send their address to the Judge Advocate, at the Navy Department.

Nebraska Seeks Admission into the Union

OMAHA, Feb 9.—The Legislature has framed a State Constitution to be submitted to the people on the 2d of June. An election for State officers takes place at the same time.

Failure to Renew the Reciprocity Treaty. Return of the Canadian Delegation

CHICAGO, Feb 9.—The negotiations for the renewal of the Reciprocity Treaty with Canada have utterly failed and the Canadian delegation have left Washington disgusted. The Toronto Globe says: One happy result of the course adopted by the United States will be the speedy restoration of the British American Provinces, the absolute necessity of which is now apparent. With the confederacy comes the improvement of internal communication, the throwing open of lands to the free actual settlers, the gradual reduction of custom tariffs, the opening of new markets, the vigor in prosecution of fisheries and mineral enterprises, the establishment of an enlarged system of immigration and the wise revision of the system of banking and currency. The people of British America doubt that brighter prospects in future are before them.

The Fenians

NEW YORK, Feb 11.—Patrick O'Rourke, treasurer of the Roberts faction of the Fenian Brotherhood, received a visit last night from some 100 persons claiming to represent the O'Mahony faction demanding the funds still in his possession. O'Rourke sent for a policeman, who compelled the visitors to withdraw.

Northern Pacific Railroad

NEW YORK, Feb 8.—Col [illegible] on behalf of the Northern Pacific Railroad asked the Government two years ago, that the Company was prepared and about to commence construction, and that a strong effort would be made to push the work.

The Northern Pacific Railroad, of which Gov. Smith of Vermont is President, expects to secure some favorable legislation from the present Congress extending the Central Route.

Pacific Railroad.

Senator Evans, of Colorado, has written a letter to the Union Pacific Railroad Company, now in session in New York, urging the importance of a more thorough survey to find a feasible passage of the Rocky Mountains in Colorado, between the head of the Arkansas river and Bowlder creek, by which route over a hundred miles of railroad will be saved in reaching Great Salt Lake.

Petition for the Pardon of Breckinridge

Petitions have been received here for presentation to the President, asking for the pardon of John C. Breckinridge, signed by upwards of 70 members of the Kentucky Legislature.

General News

WHEELING, Va, Feb 9.—Georgean and Boyce were executed at Parkersburg to-day. The rope broke in the first attempt and both were hanged separately on a second trial.

BALTIMORE, Feb 9.—The Maryland legislature adjourned last night. It refused to entertain a proposition to amend or repeal the registry law.

CLEVELAND, Feb 9.—Dr John W. Hughes, the murderer of Miss Tamison Parsons, was executed in the county jail this afternoon. He made a twenty minutes speech on the scaffold, denouncing Moses as the greatest murderer in history, and there was no sense in murdering him. He said he did not believe Christ was the son of God.

CHICAGO, Feb 10.—Senator Trumbull's son, aged fourteen years, was instantly killed while standing on an engine at the stock yard.

NEW YORK, Feb 10.—General Hooker has ordered the following military districts to be discontinued: New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, the District of Maine and the District of Northern and Western New York.

The coroner's inquest of Milton R. Holt, who was killed by an accident on the Newark and Montgomery railroad, on Thursday morning by the breaking down of a bridge, was concluded yesterday. The jury returned a verdict charging the company with gross inexcusable neglect.

NEW YORK, Feb 8.—A report prevails that Archy Hughes, the well known minstrel, was shot by a rebel refugee, Montreal, on the 7th.

The execution of John Hackett for murder, which was to have taken place to-day, was postponed for the purpose of taking the case to the Supreme Court.

Senor Mackenna publishes a letter in the Herald of this morning, denying that he had been engaged in a scheme to fit out a Chilean privateer, and charging the Spanish Agents with a conspiracy to cause his arrest and get him into trouble.

On the afternoon of the 11th, Heller & Son's drug mills, Jersey City, were burned. Loss, $20,000.

The soldiers of Gen Hancock's corps are being mustered out daily, and rarely enough remain to organize a company.

European News

NEW YORK, Feb 9.—The steamship Australasian from Liverpool 27th, via Queenstown the 28th has arrived. She brings one day later news.

The Paris Constitutional says, in an article on the Mexican question, with reference to Mr Bigelow's dispatches, that Drouyn de l'Huys says he could not give the internal arrangements of Mexico, and that the United States can't call resistance by plundering adventurers a war, after refusing the title of belligerents to the Confederates.

The Paris Patrie says the official yellow book will not contain the dispatches between France and America on the Mexican question, as that is still pending.

NEW YORK, Feb 9.—The Paris correspondent of the Herald says of the opening of the French Legislature, the ceremony was remarkable from the fact that for the first time the Prince Imperial instead of coming with the Empress as a child and remaining with her, occupied a seat at the right of the Emperor as the heir to the throne, Prince Napoleon occupying the seat on the left. The Emperor was evidently very anxious to know the impression his speech created among the American community in Paris. In conversation with an American professional gentleman, who is greatly in confidence, he asked him what was the feeling among the Americans in relation to that portion of his speech relating to the United States and Mexico, and upon being informed that it was highly favorable His Majesty replied that he was glad, as it was his intention and desire in the preparation of his speech to assure the United States that his feelings were of the most amicable nature.

South American News.

NEW YORK, Feb 9.—The steamer New York arrived from Aspinwall on the 1st. The news from Peru is that Dictator Serado had made an offensive and defensive alliance with Chile, and declared war against Spain. It was hoped at Lima that all the South American Republics, especially Colombia, would accede to the treaty.

NEW YORK, Feb 10.—The Panama correspondent of the Herald says: The combined Peruvian and Chilean fleet is under orders to commence immediate hostilities against Spain. Callao is strongly fortified with heavy guns, including 8 of Blakely's cast steel 300 pounders. The monitor Victoria and the ram Leo were also in port. Some of the batteries were officered by Americans. Torpedoes and other infernal machines for the destruction of the Spanish fleet, have arrived at Callao. They were purchased by a Chilean agent.

NEW YORK, Feb 9.—Buenos Ayres correspondence says that the loss of all the Paraguayan troops that had invaded Brazil by crossing the Uruguay river, was followed by a retreat to their own territory of all their forces that were occupying Corrientes. For more than a week the work of concentrating the allied land and naval forces had progressed so that on the 25th of January they would make a grand combined attack with 15,000 troops and thirty war steamers, on the Paraguayan stronghold of Haumatia. This is a place of immense strength, mounting one hundred heavy guns, and rendered difficult of approach by chains extending across the channel, and by submerged torpedoes, etc., and having to support it a Paraguayan army of 15,000 or 20,000 and a considerable fleet. The march of the allied forces in pursuit of the retreating Paraguayans across the province of Corrientes to the Paraguay river for three hundred miles, through an almost uninhabitable country, is described as one of the greatest difficulty and suffering. Hundreds of troops perished on the way, and many others deserted.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—John Campbell, convicted of manslaughter in killing Anthony Hardgrave, was to-day sentenced to ten years imprisonment.

The schooner Petrel, recently arrived from Manzanillo, brought the Smiley wrecking party from the scene of the wreck of the steamer Golden Gate. There is every reason to believe they obtained all the treasure that remained where the steamer sunk.

The new postal money order system is in full operation here now. During the first week 203 orders were sold, averaging about $25 each, making a total of over $5,000.

[illegible] Money Orders [illegible] Postmaster [illegible] Mr Randall [illegible] Superintendent [illegible] system [illegible] from the letter as follows:

Your [illegible] having been designated by the Postmaster General [illegible] money order office I have to invite your attention to the fact that [illegible] the system is to afford facilities for the [illegible] through the mails of small sums of money [illegible] as far as possible the loss [illegible] amount of money order is limited by law to $30. [illegible] interfere with the business of banks [illegible] bankers by furnishing exchange for large sums of money [illegible] which [illegible] The spirit and intent of the law would be [illegible] to the same person of several money orders amounting in the aggregate to a considerable sum and all payable to one office [illegible] The Postmaster General has [illegible] deemed it expedient to establish in the printed instructions to Postmasters, a fixed limit to the number of money orders of this kind which they are permitted to issue to the same person. He prefers to trust this matter to a certain extent to the discretion of the issuing Postmaster, who is required always to bear in mind that the money order system is not designed to facilitate the business of the mercantile community, which can as heretofore obtain from bankers exchange for large sums, but that its purpose is to afford security in remittances of small sums. In the opinion of this office the aggregate amount of three orders, viz: $90, is sufficiently large to meet in general the legitimate wants of the letter class of remitters. Postmasters are therefore instructed to decline issuing in one day to the same remitter, and in favor of the same payee, more than three money orders payable at the same office. But in special cases, where they are fully satisfied that the applicant requires a larger remittance solely for domestic purposes, Postmasters are at liberty to issue to him, so that three orders of this kind provided always that the aggregate amount of the orders so issued does not reach a considerable sum. Great care is recommended that this privilege be not abused, and a record should be kept by the Postmaster in his office showing in every case—where he issues more than three such orders—his reasons therefor.

Portland is the first money order office established in Oregon. From the report of the Postmaster General, we are informed that the number of offices in the United States, coming within the meaning of this system, was 419 on November 15th, 1865, including those in the Pacific States and Territories, and some of the principal offices in the Southern States. Orders were issued at that time for putting into operation 55 additional offices. We condense from the report the following in regard to this new system:

The number of money orders issued during the year was 74,277, of the value of $1 360 122 62
The number paid 70,573, of the value of $1,291 792 22
Add amount repaid to purchasers 21 784 86
—— 1 313 577 08

Amount outstanding 46 544 44

The number of duplicate orders was 422 Of these 156 were issued to replace originals lost in the mails; 83 invalidated by age and 3 by illegal indorsement.

The receipts were
Fees on original orders $11 462 06

Excess of expenditures 7 047 97

This deficiency has been provided for by the appropriation of $200 000 of May last, leaving unexpended $92 952 03 applicable to any deficiency of the current year; and as the proceeds of the system will hardly equal the expenditures until it is more generally established it is [illegible] that any balance remaining at the close of the present may be applied to the deficiency of the next fiscal year.

The maximum amount of money orders, $30, may be judiciously increased to $50, and the restriction to sums not less than one dollar removed, retaining the present minimum fee.

Under the law, the owner of a lost certificate, to obtain a duplicate, must furnish a statement, under oath or affirmation, of its loss or destruction, and procure of the Postmaster by whom it was payable a certificate that the order has not and will not be paid. These requirements work a hardship to the party, in that they compel him to pay the customary fee to the officer administering the oath, the cost of a revenue stamp affixed to that oath, and the payment of a second fee for the duplicate order. The loss of orders is seldom chargeable to any neglect of the owners, and Postmasters should be authorized to administer oaths in cases of loss, and issue duplicate orders without charge.

The law would be further improved by extending the time within which the order may be paid to six months, the period now allowed, of ninety days, being too limited for the [illegible] correspondence between distant points. L[illegible] have occurred to the amount of $841 by reason of the [illegible] of remitters, the burning of steamers, and other causes, not chargeable to the system.

Business.—There is no subject which gives us greater satisfaction to write about than activity in trade—and after a month of dreary weather, the avenues of trade cut off nearly entirely by [illegible] winter, it is gratifying to note the signs of the times as indicated by the partial resumption of business. Since Sunday night, the date of the arrival of the steamer Pacific from San Francisco, the streets of Portland have presented a scene of animated buoyancy. Cheerful business prospects and thrifty prosperous days in the future are indicated by this resumption, though but partial in itself. In parting company on the wharf yesterday with numerous of our citizens, and representatives of capital from abroad, who have been here on tours of inspection, we were the more convinced that Portland was the great centre about which must revolve the immense transactions incident to the late discoveries east and south of us. This is now the recognized "hub," and all attempts to change it must be fruitless. People tell us that we are lacking in energy—which we readily admit—but have we not the elements of energy here? Are not our people wealthy, and are not they out of debt? We are prosperous as a city. Portland stands without a rival—and notwithstanding it is more than a hundred miles to the sea coast, what more prospect is there to build up and successfully maintain a competitor nearer the shores of the great everlasting highway—the Pacific Ocean? Has it not quite often, and quite seriously been attempted? What prevented Benicia from taking trade from San Francisco? What prevented a larger place from being built below Sacramento? What is the reason a rival to Philadelphia was not sustained on the Delaware? Why was it that New Orleans went on, beyond all obstacles, to reach the high [illegible] position she now holds while a point nearer the mouth of the Father of Waters sunk into obscurity? Why is the history of nations filled with instances of a similar character in every country? Why? Simply because the laws that govern trade are as immutable as the laws of Nature itself—and a city which has reached the position this now holds is far enough in advance of speculation to maintain itself at all hazards. Portland is acknowledged to be the wealthiest city on the continent, in proportion to its population, and no small fry arrangement will ever be able to reap advantage from her position. While our people are asleep now—admitting the fact—is it not the most reasonable idea in creation to suppose that their dormant energies would be awakened at the first sight of battle for the [illegible] in any other direction. Let steamboat lines and steamship companies consolidate to affect a purpose derogatory to the interests of Portland, and see what is likely to follow. The millions here would soon be divided—one half would quickly part company with the balance if [illegible]—and the winner would be Portland. No merchant now in business here, nor five, nor ten, nor fifty of them, would so far jeopardize their interests as to move away to some "new excitement," and lose the trade they at present enjoy and which is more flattering for the future. Look the facts boldly in the face and we see no cause for alarm, and the most jealous and sectional faction in the State must admit that this is the Emporium, and must always be of Oregon, and while we delight to see all points about us prosper, we are not addicted to the narrow selfishness which governs other places.

Recorder's Court—Hoffman, J. February 13th 1866—Barbary Smith accused of larceny; case adjudged to be paid by Henry Wagner and defendant discharged.

Henry Wagner found guilty of assault on J. C. Brown, armed with a dangerous weapon, held in bonds of $500 to appear at the Circuit Court. It was shown that Wagner was drunk on Sunday evening last and kicked up a muss in Rawley's building, on Stark street fired a pistol in the house, and abused his wife. Brown, who was present interfered to prevent Wagner from beating his wife when Wagner assaulted him with a pistol. Wagner has about run the length of his string in this city, and he will probably now clear out or take up his residence with Warden Gardner for a term of years at the brick building on the McAdamized road. Squally Jack an old offender was sent to jail for drunkenness. Arthur Coulin and J. Buford each paid a fine for drunkenness. Henry Grismore vs John Collins; suit for services. Judgment for defendant in the sum of one dollar and fifty cents.

Departure of the Pacific.—The steamship Pacific left her wharf at five o'clock last evening for San Francisco, with the following cargo and treasure and about seventy five passengers. The Portland Liedertafel.—The party given by the Portland Liedertafel last evening at their hall, corner of C and Front street, in point of general and real enjoyment was of a high order. The society promises to be one of the favorite institutions of the city, and after witnessing the assembly last evening we are the more certain that this will be so. There is considerable musical talent among our German fellow citizens and a fine display of it was evinced last evening.

Commissioner.—Josiah B. Johnston, of Blackfoot City, Montana Territory, has been appointed by Gov. Gibbs Commissioner of Deeds for the State of Oregon. Commission dates from the 20th of January. Mr. George Vane [illegible] Smith, Attorney of this city, has been appointed by Gov. Meagher Commissioner of Deeds for Montana.

We observe that the dead heads keep clear of the Theatre but there is nevertheless very good audiences nightly.

Shocking Tragedy in Nevada.—The Carson Appeal gives the following account of a dreadful tragedy which took place in that town on the 4th instant:

A most shocking and most remarkable tragedy was enacted in our usually quiet city yesterday morning between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock. While Thomas Peasley of Virginia City was seated at the stove in the bar room of the Ormsby House, engaged in a conversation with a party of friends, Martin V. Barnhart entered the room in company with Jimmy Moran and Charley Moore with whom he took a drink. After drinking Barnhart turned to Peasley and attracted his attention by a not uncommon place phrase of recognition. At any rate Peasley so understood and looking toward him said "how are you." Barnhart then said "you refused to fight me at Glenbrook," at the same time using an opprobrious epithet. Peasley replied, after a moment's pause, by asking "are you always on the fight." Barnhart replied with an oath that he was and instantly drawing his pistol (a large sized navy revolver) pointed it at Peasley who threw up his hands and asked for a "show." But in less time than it takes to relate it, Barnhart fired, the shot taking effect in Peasley's chest and inflicting a flesh wound. Peasley then started to raise his chair, and as he did so, Barnhart fired again, the second shot striking Peasley lower down on the chest, and passing through his body. Though staggered by the shock, Peasley struggled to his feet grappled Barnhart and attempted to wrench his pistol from him. In this he was entirely unsuccessful, Barnhart still being enabled to maintain his hold of the weapon which he clubbed and with which he struck Peasley with much violence on the head. At this juncture Peasley exhibited the most marvelous strength and nerve and gathering himself for the dreadful death struggle he threw his assailant from him with such tremendous force as to thrust him through the door of the card room and then drawing his pistol and, although dying still wonderfully tenacious of life and purpose shot through the shattered panes of the door discharging his pistol no less than three times and then weak and faint from his mortal wounds, staggered to the opposite side of the room and fell upon the floor. In the mean time a crowd of excited men gathered in, and a terrible scene of excitement ensued. Officer Betharde testified that he first examined Peasley, who was yet alive, to ascertain, if possible, the extent of his injuries. Turning from him, he asked what had become of Barnhart. Receiving no satisfactory answer he went to the card room door, which, unaccountably, had been shut, and pushing it open, he descried, by the aid of a lighted match, the figure of Barnhart, seated in a chair and while the room was yet lighted by the match he saw the body fall forward and roll upon the floor. It was then first discovered that Barnhart was dead. He had received a pistol ball in the heart and no doubt died instantaneously. Peasley was found to be dying and was lifted up and placed upon a billiard table where he breathed his last in about a half hour after the commencement of the rencounter. Looking at the sudden violence of this murderous attack upon a comparatively defenceless man, and the tremendous and fatal exertions of that man when dying, and the quick visitation of vengeance upon the assassin, this bloody transaction was the most remarkable tragedy we can call to mind. There is a history connected with this terrible occurrence, which may be well to allude to briefly. Last winter, while Peasley was Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, Nathaniel Squires who is now in the State's Prison under conviction of the crime of arson approached a crowd in which Peasley was standing and declared he could whip any d—d abolitionist—or words to that effect. From some cause or other, Peasley confounded Barnhart with Squires, and upon meeting him, soon after in the St. Charles Saloon, attacked him and fired several shots at him without serious effect. Out of this there grew a grudge which Barnhart cherished, and on meeting Peasley one day at Glenbrook's, challenged him to fight with pistols. It was Peasley's refusal to engage in the combat that Barnhart alluded to when he first accosted yesterday morning. The victims of this tragedy were both strong, vigorous men, in the very perfection of physical health and manhood. Peasley has long been a prominent resident of Virginia city and enjoyed much popularity among his acquaintances. Barnhart was quite a young man, being scarcely twenty four years of age and had he been given to better habits and guided by more commendable impulses, might have been a useful member of society. As it has terminated, he has paid the terrible penalty of a reckless life and a revengeful spirit.

Gold Placers of Clarke County, W. T.—It has been frequently stated that gold has been found in different places in Clarke county. This is undoubtedly true. Whether it can be found in sufficient quantities to pay for the labor which will be required to collect it, must depend as we believe, on future examinations.

Relative to one of the places where gold has been discovered, we can give a few facts. The locality is on the farm of one of the brothers Proebstel about ten miles nearly north of Vancouver. One of Mr. Proebstel's sons, last fall, while cleaning out a spring, made trial of the earth, and found the "color," which indicates the presence of gold. Farther examinations were had, and the "colors" increased. An effort was then made to dig down to the bed rock—the shaft was sunk thirty feet until the workmen were stopped by the influx of the water. As the prospectors sunk the shaft, they found gold as they believed, in paying quantities. The gold was coarse, with sharp angles, and appeared to be very fine. One piece of gold found was worth seventy five cents.

Mr. Proebstel stated that experienced miners had made examinations of the earth, and unite in the opinion that gold in paying quantities had been found, and that the indications were, that the diggings would prove very rich. The work on the shaft to reach the bed rock will be renewed in the spring—when the richest earth it was supposed would be found by drifting.

Thus we have stated this matter as concerns one of the discoveries, in as plain a manner as we are able to do. We think the prospects are entirely favorable to the discovery of gold in our neighborhood in sufficient quantities to pay the miner for his labor. Placers that would pay the miner five dollars a day, in our neighborhood, would afford a good profit—having in view the cheapness of living, and the nearness of all the supplies necessary for the miner, and the little expense in reaching the placers.

Our citizens are deeply interested in the thorough prospecting of the gold placers in Clarke county. A mining population of four or five thousand men in the immediate neighborhood of Vancouver, would make lively times for our people.—Vancouver Register.

The Brownsville Woolen Mills.—From Mr. Duncan, Superintendent of the Brownsville Woolen Mills, we learn that the factory building is completed and ready for the reception of the machinery. Part of the machinery has arrived in San Francisco, and the remainder is daily expected, by clipper ships fully due at that port. The company will be ready to commence the manufacture of fabrics as early as late spring, if not before.—Albany Democrat.

Messrs. Smith & Davis of Portland have always on hand a good supply of the Genuine Hall's Pulmonary Balsam. No family should be without a bottle of this valuable remedy in the house.

Constitution of the Portland Philharmonic Society.

Preamble. In order to bring together in the most effective manner the musical talent of Portland, and to encourage the practical cultivation of Music, the undersigned agree to associate themselves under this Constitution.

Article 1. Name and Object. This Association shall be styled the "Portland Philharmonic Society," and its object shall be musical improvement.

Article 2. Officers. The officers of the Society shall consist of a President, Vice President, Secretary, who shall also act as Treasurer, Librarian and five Directors, of whom the President and Vice President shall be two. These officers shall hold office for one year from date of election or until others have been elected in their place.

Article 3. Duties of Officers. The President and Vice President shall discharge the duties that usually devolve upon those officers.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a record of the proceedings of the Society and the Board of Directors. He shall attend to all correspondence, collect all dues and disburse all moneys belonging to the Society under the direction of the Board of Directors.

It shall be the duty of the Librarian to take charge of all music belonging to the Society, keep the same in order, and attend to its proper distribution whenever it shall be required for use by the Society.

Article 4.—Board of Directors.—The Board of Directors shall have charge of all business regarding the Society, appoint a Musical Director, judge of the qualification of applicants for membership, appoint evenings for meetings and the place where such meetings shall be held, act in connection with the Conductor in the selection of music for rehearsals or concerts, fill any vacancies which may occur in the Board, and generally have charge of, and direct the interests of the Society.

Article 5. Election of Officers. There shall be an annual election of officers on the first Friday in February of each year. The election of officers shall be by ballot, and it shall require a majority of the members of the Society then present to elect.

Article 6.—Initiation Fee and Dues.—The initiation fee of this Society for each male active member, shall be Five Dollars. The dues shall be One Dollar per month. Any active member refusing to pay his dues for three months, shall at the discretion of the Board of Directors, forfeit his membership. It is hereby expressly understood, that all dues to the Society are payable in U. S. Gold or Silver coin.

Article 7.—Subscribing Members.—Subscribing non active members, by the payment, in advance, of Ten Dollars per year shall have the privilege of attending all rehearsals and concerts of the Society.

Article 8.—Alterations or Amendments.—This Constitution may be altered or amended by a vote of two thirds of the members present, at any business meeting of the Society of which due notice shall have been given. In all cases, ten members present may constitute a quorum.

Money Order Office, P. O. Department. This Office has been designated as a MONEY ORDER OFFICE, and is now prepared to furnish Orders from one to thirty dollars on any Money Order Office in the United States. E. G. RANDALL, P. M.
Portland, Oregon, Feb 12, 1866.

The specific object of the Money Order system is to afford facilities for the safe transfer through the mails of small sums of money so as to prevent as far as possible the loss of money letters, which contain generally but small sums. For this reason the maximum amount of a money order is limited by law to thirty dollars. Hence it is not intended that this system shall assume the functions and interfere with the business of Banks and of Bankers, by furnishing exchange for large sums of money. The mode by which safety is secured consists in leaving out of the order the name of the payee or party for whom the money is intended. In this respect the money order differs from an ordinary bank check.

An advice or notification containing full particulars of the order is transmitted by the issuing Postmaster to the Postmaster at the office of payment. The latter is thus furnished, before the order itself can be presented, with the necessary information to detect fraud, if any should be attempted—thus insuring the transfer of small sums of money without danger of loss.

The Three Hunchbacks.

The following amusing and seemingly incredible narrative is from a late French publication It is neatly told, and will be read with interest

Three brothers, all humpbacked, and all accurately alike in appearance, lived at Besancon One of them killed a man in a chance medley, but, not being taken on the moment, the prosecutors could only swear that one of the three brothers had done the deed Rather than put an innocent man to death the judge let the guilty one escape, but, to avoid farther inconvenience of the kind he banished all from the province. One settled in Paris, became rich, and married; the others after nearly starving in England, returned and paid a visit to their fortunate brother.

The master of the house was abroad when they knocked, and the poor wife was troubled more than a little by the visit.

"My husband is very jealous," said she to them while giving them something to eat. "You must go to the farthest quarter of the town, and never come here again; but I'll make your brother look to your wants." While she was speaking she heard her husband's knock, and cried out, "follow me, if you value your lives."

She ordered the servant not to open the door until she should return, and then conveyed the brothers down stairs and locked them into the cellar. Her husband scolded for being kept out so long but a good dinner restored him to good humor, and at night he went out to pay a visit.

The wife then went down to the cellar, and there found the two poor brothers dead, one lying here, the other there. She sent for a strong Auvergnat, brought him down stairs, showed him one of the corpse which she had previously taken out of the cellar, and promised him a Louis d'or on his return, after having thrown it into the Seine. He made no scruple about the matter, but popped the body into the sack, took it to the river. Returning for his reward, the wife disputed his claim, as the body was still lying outside the cellar door. Here the stupified man saw what he firmly believed to be the corpse he had thrown from the bridg, and, resigning himself to destiny the second time. Coming back, he was terrified and enraged by finding the twice-drowned corpse knocking at his own door.

"Are these your tricks, master?" said he. "Ah, Monsieur Ghost! clever as you are, I'll settle you the third trial."

So saying, he forced the poor husband into the sack, carried him to the same spot and effected the third discharge.

This time he returned in triumph, for the wife, ignorant of her husband's fate, and having no more corpses to remove, paid him twice what she had covenanted, and gave him a good glass of wine into the bargain.

"Your good health, madame," said he; "you are better than your promise, but I earned it. I found the humpbacked rogue or his ghost knocking at the door after I had thrown him in for the second time."

"Oh, wretch!" cried the poor woman, "you have drowned my husband!"

While she was screaming and he standing in amazement, the gens d'armes entered, secured both and sent them to prison. Next day they were brought before the magistrate of the quarter and examined. The poor wife concealed nothing; the Auvergnat was not called on for an explanation; and while both were awaiting, sentence of death the three brothers in full life, but with very pale faces, were ushered into the room. Some fishermen stationed near the bridge had saved the three. The unmarried man had been only dead drunk in the cellar, and the submersion, and the consequent pulling and hauling and ejectment of wine and water, had recovered them from their drunken lethargy before the natural time. On their first appearance before the magistrate they could give no explanation of their visit to the river, and the husband had no idea of the cause of his being seized on; but his wife's explanation made all clear.

The king hearing of the strange adventure, settled a pension on the unmarried men, but they were not to dwell within fifty miles of Paris, and the married man was not jealous for a year and a day after his seizure and escape from the river.

UTAH ITEMS.—The Utah Legislature closed its session on the 20th January. The Salt Lake Telegraph compliments it as industrious and honest, and adds: "Throughout, the intercourse of the [illegible] and officials with his Excellency the Governor and the Secretary of the Territory has been pleasant and agreeable."

The subject of artesian wells is attracting considerable attention in Utah. The recent Legislature appropriated $3,000 to aid in the completion of the one at St. George, and a like sum to aid in the completion of the one started a while ago in Salt Lake City.

Brigham Young's message to the General Assembly appears in the Telegraph of January 23d. He complains of the refusal of Congress to allow Utah into the Union, and says:

If, then, we are citizens of the Government, and have the requisite strength and ability for a State, why should we not be admitted into the Union? If we are citizens, why pursue the unconstitutional course of taxation without representation?

But we can wait; we can pursue the even tenor of our way—however much we may feel to regret such treatment at the hands of the Government. Still claiming our rights, and hoping Congress will soon lend a more favorable ear to our wishes, we will continue the course we have pursued.

Brigham is justly jubilant over the prospects of the construction of the Pacific Railroad, and predicts great results to Utah and the "rest of mankind."

I am also happy to inform you that the construction of the Pacific Railroad is in favorable progress, and the indications are, that during the present year, the iron-horse will approach several hundred miles nearer our isolated position in the tops of the mountains. We wish it good speed and success, and expect that when the route for the road through this State shall be determined upon, you, with your constituents, will lend your material aid and energies to the more speedy accomplishment of that great national work.

WEALTH OF THE MORMONS.—Lieutenant Governor Bross, of Illinois, who has been visiting the Mormons, explains the origin of their prosperity as follows:

"Within the past few years they have grown wealthy. The sources of their riches are easily understood. During all the California emigration movement, and in some years hundreds and even thousands of emigrants would arrive at Salt Lake with their teams broken down, or half of them dead, and therefore unable to proceed. Of course the Mormons were ready, in true Yankee style, to trade good animals for those that were about worn out, pocketing a handsome difference in hard cash. In a few months at most these broken down animals would be fat and sleek, and Mr. Mormon Elder was ready to trade with the next emigrant that came along. Of course, many goods and provisions were sold to emigrants. Within the last four years there has been a great rush of emigration to Montana and Idaho, and the Mormons have been able to sell their surplus grain and provisions at fabulous prices. With corn at $3 to $6 per bushel, and wheat at $8 to $10, and provisions of all kinds at proportionate figures, the Mormons have become rich far sooner than any other people upon the continent."

LONGFELLOW'S "EXCELSIOR."—A gentleman of this city has related to us an interesting and suggestive anecdote respecting this celebrated poem It was written in 1858 for a magazine in New York, of which this gentleman was editor The owner and publisher was an illiterate fellow, who stuttered abominably, and one morning when our friend, the editor, went into the office, the publisher saluted him with, "L-l-look here, I just hear what a d—d p piece of trash L-Longfellow has sent!" Thereupon, stuttering as he went, and in accents of ineffable contempt as he proceeded to read several of the stanzas, bringing out the "Excelsior" at the close of each with an expression that defies description Then he crumpled the manuscript angrily in his hand, declaring that he would send it back and express his opinion to Longfellow of his impudence He did so Publisher and magazine have been long buried away from sight and from mind. But the condemned lyric contains one of the greenest leaves in the circlet of perennial verdure that crowns the poet with an honored immortality —Portland Advertiser.

The Detroit Tribune is responsible for the following important disclosure "We learn from an entirely well informed source at Washington, that all the books and documents left in Canada by Jacob Thompson, the most active and debased of all the rebel emissaries in that province, containing his correspondence, documents and accounts, showing the disposition of the rebel funds in his hands have been secured, and are now in the possession of the Government authorities at Washington These papers will be of rare interest, particularly to the frontier cities, Detroit included, against which a great portion of the machinations of Thompson and his cut-throat gang were directed"

WAR DEBTS OF THE LOYAL STATES.—A Washington dispatch of February 2d, says.

Returns to the Special House Committee on the war debts of the loyal States show the aggregate indebtedness which cannot under the existing laws be assumed by the United States It exceeds $300,000,000.

U. S. Marshal's Notice.

District of Oregon—ss.

WHEREAS, a Libel has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, on the 30th day of January, A D 1866, by Meyer Mansfield, libellant, against the Steamship Oregon, her tackle, apparel and furniture, alleging in substance, that on or about the 26th day of January, A D 1865, the said libellant shipped on board said Steamship at the Port of Astoria, to be delivered at the Port of San Francisco, a certain package of goods, furniture and clothing of the value of eleven hundred and seventy-two dollars, and which said package of goods, &c., was not delivered to him at the said Port of San Francisco, according to agreement, but was wholly lost to the said libellant, and praying [illegible] against said Steamship and that the same, her tackle, apparel and furniture may be condemned and sold to pay said damages, with costs and expenses.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the warrant under the seal of said Court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said Steamship Oregon, her tackle, apparel and furniture, or in any manner interested therein, that they be and appear before the said District Court, to be held in the city of Portland, on Monday, the 5th day of March, A. D. 1866, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to interpose their claims and make their allegations in that behalf

U S. Marshal for Oregon.

Portland, Feb 8, 1866. d14t

[COMMUNICATED]

Regulations for Lent.

1. All the week days of Lent, from Ash Wednesday till Easter Sunday, are fast days of precept, on one meal, with the allowance of a moderate collation in the evening and a cup of tea or coffee with a small piece of dry bread in the morning

2. The precept of fasting implies that also of abstinence from the use of flesh meat. But, by dispensation, the use of flesh meat is allowed in this Diocese, once a day at the principal meal on all Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays of Lent, Holy Thursday excepted, and at every meal on all the Sundays. By the foregoing dispensation, there remain only three days of abstinence every week from Ash Wednesday till the Holy Week, of which the last four days are of strict abstinence.

3. The regular meal is not without reasonable cause to be taken long before noon.

4. The use of flesh meat and fish at the same meal is prohibited.

5. There is no prohibition to use eggs, butter, milk and cheese Lard may be used in preparing fish and vegetables, &c , in all Lent This dispensation extends also to the days of abstinence throughout the year.

6. The Church excuses from the obligation of fasting (but not of abstinence from flesh meat, except in special case of sickness or the like,) the following classes of persons, viz. the infirm, those whose duties are of an exhausting or laborious character, those under twenty-one years of age or only attaining their growth, women in pregnancy or nursing infants, and those who are enfeebled by old age.

7. It is eminently in the spirit of the Church that such persons should supply in part by good works, for what is remitted in fasting and abstinence

8. Fervent prayer and almsdeeds, according to each one's ability ought to be inseparable companions of our fasting. These three sisters should go hand in hand, to help us in our warfare against our three mortal enemies, the flesh, the world, and the devil According to the advice of the Angel to Tobias, xii, 8: "Prayer is good with fasting and alms more than to lay up treasure of gold" The practice of these three eminent good works we must oppose to that triple concupiscence which reigns in the world, (1, St John, 1, 16) and by means of which Satan maintains his unhappy reign By fasting we overcome the lust of the flesh; by almsdeeds we subdue the lust of the eyes by which we are apt to covet the mammon of the world and its empty toys; and by fervent and humble prayer we conquer the pride of life and put to flight the devil, the king of pride Let us call on in this holy season these powerful auxiliaries to help us in our warfare There is a very praiseworthy practice kept in many Christian houses in saying the Rosary and evening prayers in families every day in Lent This holy exercise we would recommend to be practiced by all during Lent

9. But all ought to remember that the very soul of the fasting is the inward spirit, which is a penitential spirit This penitential spirit implies a deep sense of the guilt of our sins, a horror and detestation of all our past disloyalties and treasons, and a hearty sorrow for them; a sincere desire to return to God and renounce our sinful ways for the future, and, particularly, a readiness of mind to make the best satisfaction we are able to the Divine justice by punishing ourselves for our sins. Fasting in this spirit cannot fail of moving God to mercy

10. The usual evening exercises of Lent, in the churches, consisting of the Rosary of the Blessed Virgin Mary, an instruction, and the Benediction of the Holy Sacrament, are recommended on every Wednesday and Friday during the Lent

Given at Portland, Oregon February 3, 1866
† F. N. BLANCHET, Archbishop of O C

P. S —The dispensation of abstinence viz
1. On all the Saturdays of the year which are not fasting days of obligation;
2. On the Wednesdays of Advent,
3. On the three Rogation days;
4. On certain days in Lent;

Has been renewed at Rome for ten years from June 12th, 1865, for the whole Ecclesiastical Province of Oregon City

U. S. Marshal's Notice.

WHEREAS, a Libel has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, on the 11th day of January, A D 1866 by Paul Corno, libellant, against the bark A A Eldridge alleging in substance that said bark A A Eldridge is indebted to him in the sum of one hundred dollars for pilotage and praying process against said bark A A Eldridge and that he may have decree against the said vessel for the said sum and costs and disbursements.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the warrant, under the seal of said Court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said bark A A Eldridge, her tackle, apparel and furniture, or in any manner interested therein, that they be and appear before the said District Court, to be held in the City of Portland on Monday, the 5th day of March, A D 1866, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, then and there to interpose their claims and make their allegations in that behalf

THAT OLD GREENBACK CASE!

I am still obliged to accept of Legal Tender Notes at Par (and have been since Dec 17, 1862, for the rent of my Handsome Brick Store corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that

JACOB MAYER

Leased the building of me Feb. 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were Cash Since the date above stated, I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the making less than two fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings as the one referred to above.

THE STANDARD AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS.

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first-class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship, as the best and only reliable tables

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges, who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office, and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions

We employ, in the construction of our tables a variety of machines specially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials, we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch

The eminent French Billiard Player, M Berger, has published the following opinion:

"NEW YORK, 2d August, 1861

"On the eve of leaving the United States, I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that, after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior, that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.

"BERGER, CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris"

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first-class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail The "Billiard Cue," a journal published in the interest of Billiards, and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news, and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application

M. E HUGHES,

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing disease of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Ladies suffering from Whites, Falling of the Womb, Suppression of the Menses, or Profuse Flowing, Costiveness, Piles, Weakness of the Back, Pain in the side, Headache, Palpitation, and all other diseases to which the female system is subjected, will find prompt relief by addressing themselves to DR. PERRAULT, corner Sacramento and Montgomery streets. Private entrance, Sacramento street.

To those seeking our advice a plain statement of the case will be given, whether curable or not All cases taken under treatment warranted. No charges for advice No poisons or harsh medicines to injure the constitution no making sick to make well; honest in our dealings frank in our opinions; moderate in our charges. We invite investigation, claim not to know everything, nor cure everybody, but do claim to reason and common sense, and to cure eight out of ten pronounced incurable.

We particularly request those who have tried this doctor, and that scientific Physician, boasted and advertised till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us. It will cost nothing, as consultations are free.

N B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to DR. PERRAULT, stating their case as minutely as possible, general habits of living, occupation, etc. Letters to be addressed, J. PERRAULT, M. D , corner Sacramento and Montgomery streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or Box 973, Post Office, San Francisco.

DR PERRAULT still retains the agency of DR. [illegible] FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS. Their immense sale has established their reputation as the only safe and reliable remedy for all irregularities and obstructions in females no matter from what cause. On receipt of five dollars these pills will be sent by Mail or Express to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage. [illegible]

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from disease absorbed into the system! Look at their [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid state thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying maladies [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late. [illegible] these immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the [illegible] vaunted doctors who infest all cities, publishing their [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians of Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of a charlatan.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] solitary vice, or [illegible] sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confusion of ideas, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hot flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief is not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and entire mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give the patient a written instrument, binding himself to a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage or curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
